Brian Lenton Thredbo 6k Fun Run/Walk Saturday 7th January 2023

Eager and ready 122 participants got underway in perfect but hot conditions at 3:00 PM some running walking or Wheeling prams and were livened up with the tunes of INXS cover band live baby live, as they pass by the Alpine hotel courtyard, as it happened Sam Hopper and girlfriend Portia Olsen were enjoying a week in Thredbo and saw the Thredbo fun and fitness week advertised, they registered late on Friday and proved they were quality athletes. Sam had a big lead at Friday flat but veered left and headed for jindabyne, after realising he was heading out of Thredbo he glanced back spotting 3 runners rounding the tree line divider in the main car park, he quickly turned and chased, catching them at the talking courtesy bus stop before the leisure centre, losing about 400 metres knowing the course on the second lap he increased his lead to win with a leg in the air 20.41. The evergreen and previous winner, Chris Truscott was second. Luca Lamond and Flynn Read were next best.

The women's race was one of the most exciting in history with Elizabeth Humphries 22.55 winning, with Sam's girlfriend Portia Olson, in her shadow the whole way. With Lara Dawson third the girls were 5th, 6th and 9th outright. to be the first three women, top 10 outright finishers ever in the race, the first race was in 1976 proving how unique their performances were,

New all time listings

- 1. Sam Hopper now equal 85th with Dave Gratton and Anthony Scott. (could have been equal 40th as he lost about one minute). He has since franked his form by running a creditable 15.14.76 in the NSW 5k Championships.
- 2. Elizabeth Humphries time of 22.49 in 2018, stills stands as her PB and ranks her as 24^{th} all time. This shows age does not weary as her time of 22.55 is only 6 secs slower. 3.Portia Olsen now 28^{th} all time with 23.01
- 4th Lara Dawson 24.18 joins the list at no 51 all time.

Great fun was had by all who ran, walked, wheeled etc. in the busy Thredbo Village. Special mention to the volenteer course officials, sponsor Margaret O'Donavan and Daryl Read, TFFW coordinator.

Race analyzing and description narated by the Waltons and Daryl Read.

Crackenback Challenge 8th January 2023

The 53rd edition of the iconic Crackenback Challenge was welcomed with a beautiful cool morning for the 8:30am start.

40 steely eyed confident competitors were delayed slightly due to chairlift repairs. Once underway everyone successfully climbed in and out of several deep grooved creviced mountain bike tracks before levelling out briefly, with the snow groomers equipment maintenance compound on their righ,t during the next long relentless uphill section. Dave Osmond running, including some strong power walking, attacked up his usual ski run, while Luca Lamond, Simeon Hearnshaw and Flynn Read went the more direct way close to the chairlift. The Armstrong brothers were next with the three leading young women, Tess Aungles, Monica Hollwood and Meg Haynes performing well a little further back. After passing about halfway and then on up to Kareela Hut most combatants converged, forming a long conga line towards the three sisters rocks. Dave Osmond who had led most of the way was first through the bluff and onto the Mount Crackenback finish, although his slowest win, all 17 are remarkable efforts of longevity and commitment on the 600 metre elevation gain climb, of two kilometres length, with a young family in tow now, Daves training is restricted, but we are all lucky to have the man who has performed at a high level in many world championship races, along with winning performances in stair racing, and cross country as well. Luca Lamond pressed Dave all the way finishing only 18 seconds behind, with Simeon Hearnshaw next with Ryan Armstrong beating older brother Chad for 4th making it two wins from 2 on the hill and on the flatter 6K run yesterday. Young Flynn Read had a great result finishing six outright. Luca, Simeon and Finn all doing PB's on the becoming tougher course. Tess Aungles after finishing second last year. Equalled Ashley Urens 2022 winning time of 29.53 in running one minute 12 seconds faster this year. Monica Hollwood had a sensational first time run finishing just 28 seconds behind Tess, with the consistent Meg Haynes 3rd, (12th outright) beating father Peter (14th) who's running and triathlon achievements would leave us breathless and in extreme amazement in his era, most very good athletes would not be good enough to carry his kit bag.

Great effort by all first timers and regulars, bring on next year. Thanks to Daryl Read and his team for making things run smoothly and Gerard Ryan for his generous sponsorship.

Armstrong Alpine Adventure

Armstrong Alpine Adventure 10th January 2023

This year's event was raced in beautiful sunny conditions as against the heavy rain and cold winds of last year. Flynn and Jack Read followed their great win of last year to show it wasn't a fluke, with a score of 540 points. Followed closely by Graham and Luca Lamond just 10 points behind and Meg and Ashley in 3rd another 10points back.

Once again, another amazing event organised and sponsored by the Armstrong family. Barrel draw prizes outnumbered the entrants, so everyone received a prize.

Official Results are as follows:

.1st: Flynn Read & Jack Read with 550 points.

2nd: Graham and Luca Lamond with 540 points.

3rd: Meg Haynes and Ashley Johns with 530 points.

Thredbo Aquathon 12th January 2023

Water Temperature 22

Approx 60 participants

First time organisers and sponsors Marty and Elisha Bell were greeted with outstanding weather for the event. The only complaint was a little bit too much weed in the lake, but otherwise conditions were perfect. They had the course set and marshals and water safety in place.

First event was the primary school ages group.

Followed by the High School Age group with a slightly longer swim and run. Next to go were the open females, and female relay teams. From the gun Bella Yates established an early lead with Olivia Yates hot on her heels. Bella was first out of the water, followed by Olivia and then Lara Dawson. Both Bella and Olivia tagged their relay teammates while Lara managed a quick transition to hit the course not too far behind. Completing a masterful display of swim/running Lara Dawson came home first in the Open Females with Greta Truscott and a fast-finishing Elsie Hamilton rounding out the podium.

In the Open Men's race it was a tight tussle in the swim between Steve Arentz and Glen Walker with Steve nudging ahead at the last turn buoy to hold on to be first out of the water. For Steve that was mission accomplished, and he had to watch as the slower swimmers, but faster runners (including his son Lachlan) passed him on the run course. Ryan Armstrong exited the swim not too far back and managed to find a fresh set of legs to pull ahead of the field to take the win. Luca Lamond managed to run through the field for 2nd with Chad Armstrong holding on for 3rd.

The bell family should be commended for putting on a great event after taking over the organising and sponsorship from long time duo of Ken Uren and Chris Toohey.

Dave Hobson Grand Slam Tennis

Beautiful night

Crowd of approx 90 brought their picnic blankets, chairs, dinner and drinks to watch the finals of the Dave Hobson Grand Slam Tennis.

During the quarter finals a large clap of thunder rolled through the valley and a quick look at the BOM radar showed pockets of heavy rain moving around the area. At the conclusion of the semis the experienced organiser Jeff Tayler suggested we start the final straight away rather than do the golf presentations. This put finalists Ken Gordon and Meg Haynes at a distinct disadvantage as they had just come off the court on weary legs. Meanwhile their opponents in the final, Thomas Paterson, and Cherie Whan, had a longer rest with the chance to grab a bite and rest their legs. The final got under way and the mixture of youth (Thomas Paterson) and experience (Cherie Whan - 3rd Thredbo Tennis title) proved to be too strong on the night.

At the concluding presentation the comment was made that it was Cherie's 3rd title and Ken's 5th final. I'm unsure if that's 5 defeats for Ken or what.

We should mention that Simon Miels filled in at late notice, to help Jeff Tayler organize, after long time organiser Tony Greenwell was a late withdrawal from the week. While Tony was missed, the event didn't miss a beat.

> Second with 59 points was Team E, third on 58.5 points was Team G

The Pindari Plodders hour run had 135 participants.

Rejoov Strength & Stretching had 65 participants.

Thredbo Basketball Relays

If you can bounce a ball you can enter the basketball relays. This event is for the young and young at heart. This year we had several families competing with three generations of athletes on the court, with grandmothers showing their younger ones how it was done. The competitors, yes competitors, as this event has some fierce competition when siblings, parent and grandparents are lined up against each other (not mentioning any names Fran and Tara). The competitors form teams of four and started by displaying their ball skills with dribbling relays, this was followed by displays of team work with passing skills. Each athlete was given the opportunity to show off a fancy move for the crowd which kept everyone entertained. The relays finished with a giant tunnel ball race and barrel draw prizes.

Look forward to seeing everyone next year. The Yates Family

Eric and May Fazackerley 3k fun run for Veterans

Another beautiful morning greeted approximately 96 runners for the Vets 3km.

This year the event had a new organiser and sponsor in the Smith Family, with Kate and Andrew bringing along some great prizes for the barrel draw.

- > Kate had organised an army of young marshals to line the course to ensure no one missed a turn and the water pistols were a blessing for many of the runners on a hot course.
- > Before the start Jeff Tayler said a few kind words about Eric and May Fazackerley whom the event was named after. This gave all participants an idea of the types of people they were and left many to be thankful for this event.
- > One final touching moment was when the final Vet, Dot Siepmann, came in she was followed by all the kids who had marshalled on course. As Dot neared the finish line the kids ran ahead and formed a guard of honour and arch with their hands for Dot to finish through.
- > No official results for this one, but Ryan Armstrong and Chris Truscott had a great battle on the tough bumpy up and down course. With Chris getting the better of Ryan in the shadows of the post.

Kosciuszko Classic 14th January 2023

Another blue bird day greeted runners and supporters alike at the top of Eagles Nest for the walk over to Rawsons Pass.

Many comments were made about the abundance of snow drifts still visible, as well as the beauty of the wildflowers.

At Rawsons Pass registration took place and 24 people signed up and jogged down to the start at the Snowy River Bridge.

Up the top of the summit, construction works had begun on renovating the track and approach to the summit. While it didn't hinder this event it isn't known how long this work will take and whether it will be completed by next year's event.

With watches synced at top and bottom the runners started at 11am. Luca Lamond quickly established a lead and by all accounts just held a consistent pace all the way to take the win in 24:25. Behind him Simeon Hearnshaw (25:03) and first female Elizabeth Humphries (25:42) also held their places and paces from go to woah. The story of the day was the battle between Chad Armstrong (28:01) and Jack Read (27:45). Chad is the most experienced runner of this event in TFFW history, but with less than 300m to go he was passed by a fast-finishing Jack. At the top Chad said, with tongue in cheek, that he'd have appreciated a little more respect for his elders from Jack.

As the final runner came through some dark storm clouds were forming. So we all got off the mountain and raced the rain back to the village. Fortunately, the rain never came and rounded out a week of wonderful Alpine weather.

After 2 bushfires, 2 covid and 1 extreme weather cancellation, this year was the correct 43rd edition of official Kossy Classics.

Luca Lamond's first ever runners week win was a great improvement on 2022 of 1min 24secs and now places him at 32^{nd} on the best under 25min list, since this new distance started in 1999. Elizabeth Humphries win in the female race was outstanding. Her 25.42 not only ranks her 4^{th} all time, but creates history as the first female to finish the lofty position of 3^{rd} outright many postions ahead of the three faster times on the course ahead of her.

Elisha Bell 9th outright, comes in at 25th all time list. Gen Guinney ran well for 3rd female in all time of 33.53 but her all time listing is 32nd with a time of 32.17 she ran in 2009.
